

The Petroleum Institute in Abu Dhabi

Faculty Positions in Petroleum Engineering

The Petroleum Institute in Abu Dhabi is seeking applications for faculty positions in the Petroleum Engineering program. Applicants should possess an earned PhD degree in Petroleum Engineering or a closely related field. Outstanding records or potential in teaching, research and service relevant to the mission of the Petroleum Engineering program at the Institute are critical. Areas of specialization are open; experience with carbonate reservoirs will be a plus, as will industrial experience. Appointments at all levels (Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, and Professor) are available. For truly exceptional candidates, appointment as Distinguished Institute Professor is possible. This appointment comes with additional recognition, rank, salary and benefits.

Program faculty report directly to the Program Director who has overall responsibility for leadership of the Petroleum Engineering program. Faculty will teach undergraduate and graduate courses, develop an active research program, and engage in departmental and institutional service. They will have outstanding opportunities to interact with national and international Petroleum Institute stakeholders for development of research and service (consulting, continuing education) programs. Involvement in professional society activities is encouraged and supported. For further information on the Petroleum Institute, please visit our web site at: <http://www.pi.ac.ae>

Salary/Benefits: Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience, with an excellent benefits package, including housing and furniture allowance, educational allowance for dependent children, annual air passages and medical care. The UAE levies no income taxes.

Institution: The Petroleum Institute was created in 2001 with aspirations to establish itself as a world-class institution in engineering in areas of significance to the oil and gas and the broader energy industries. The Petroleum Institute's sponsors and affiliates include major oil companies, including four of the five major oil companies in the world. The campus has modern instructional laboratories and classroom facilities and is now in the planning phase of three major research centers on its campus. The Petroleum Institute is an affiliate institute with Colorado School of Mines and in the process of signing working relationships and collaborations with other major universities and research institutions around the world to capitalize on joint collaborations and research areas of interest. For additional information, please refer to the PI website: www.pi.ac.ae.

To Apply: Application materials must include (1) a letter of interest, which addresses the applicant's qualifications for the position; (2) a current resume; and (3) the names, email and business address, and home and business telephone numbers of at least three references. Electronic Submission is greatly preferred, and should be sent to The Recruiting Coordinator at The Petroleum Institute (recruiting-coordinator@pi.ac.ae) and submission of materials as an MS Word/PDF attachment is strongly encouraged.

Candidates are encouraged to submit an application as soon as possible, indicating their timeframe of availability. Applications will be considered until available positions have been filled.
